
Weekly Legislative Report

Week of February 16, 2015

In January, the new governor and legislature took office. Since that time, committees have been formed and scheduled, leadership teams have been named and offices have been moved around the State House. A large number of bills have been filed and we expect an even larger number of bills filed before the deadlines.

This week committees start to meet and consider bills sponsored by legislators. The Governor will present his budget on Wednesday, February 18. The deadline for introduction of Senate bills is February 20. The deadline for introduction of House bills is February 27.

We are trying a new report format and welcome your feedback as we want these reports to be as helpful to you as possible. Moving forward, legislation new to the report and changes in bill status will be highlighted in yellow. If you should have any questions, or need additional information, please feel free to contact us.

Thanks.
